What the J. B. Van Sciver Company Offers to All Who Are Interested in Furniture

THE Van Sciver Company, with its huge plant, its inexpensive location, its exceptional facilities, its practical expert experience in designing, making and marketing furniture, occupies a unique position in the furniture world.

Over 100,000 homes, clubs, hotels and institutions have been furnished in whole or in part by this company during the past few years. Its patrons come from far and near, sharing in the large savings which its splendid economies and exceptional facilities make possible. The Van Sciver Company saves its patrons more than $100,000 every year.

The great exhibition galleries, acres in extent, are now filled with beautiful furniture of the most desirable types—furniture designed to meet the most exacting requirements, comfortable, pleasing in style and marked at the lowest price at which good, reliable furniture can be sold.

Here individual taste and special requirements may be gratified to the fullest extent and your home environment made more delightful. Assembled in profusion are the newest creations of the great artists of the day. Period styles, reproductions, matched suites and odd pieces, formal pieces and suites noteworthy for their simple lines, fine workmanship and richly grained wood—a vast assortment extending from the plain, substantial styles suited to the inexpensive bungalow and everyday service to the richly ornamented types for the palatial home.

Every piece is plainly price-marked. Courteous salesmen are in attendance to give information when desired, but are instructed to importune no one to make purchases.

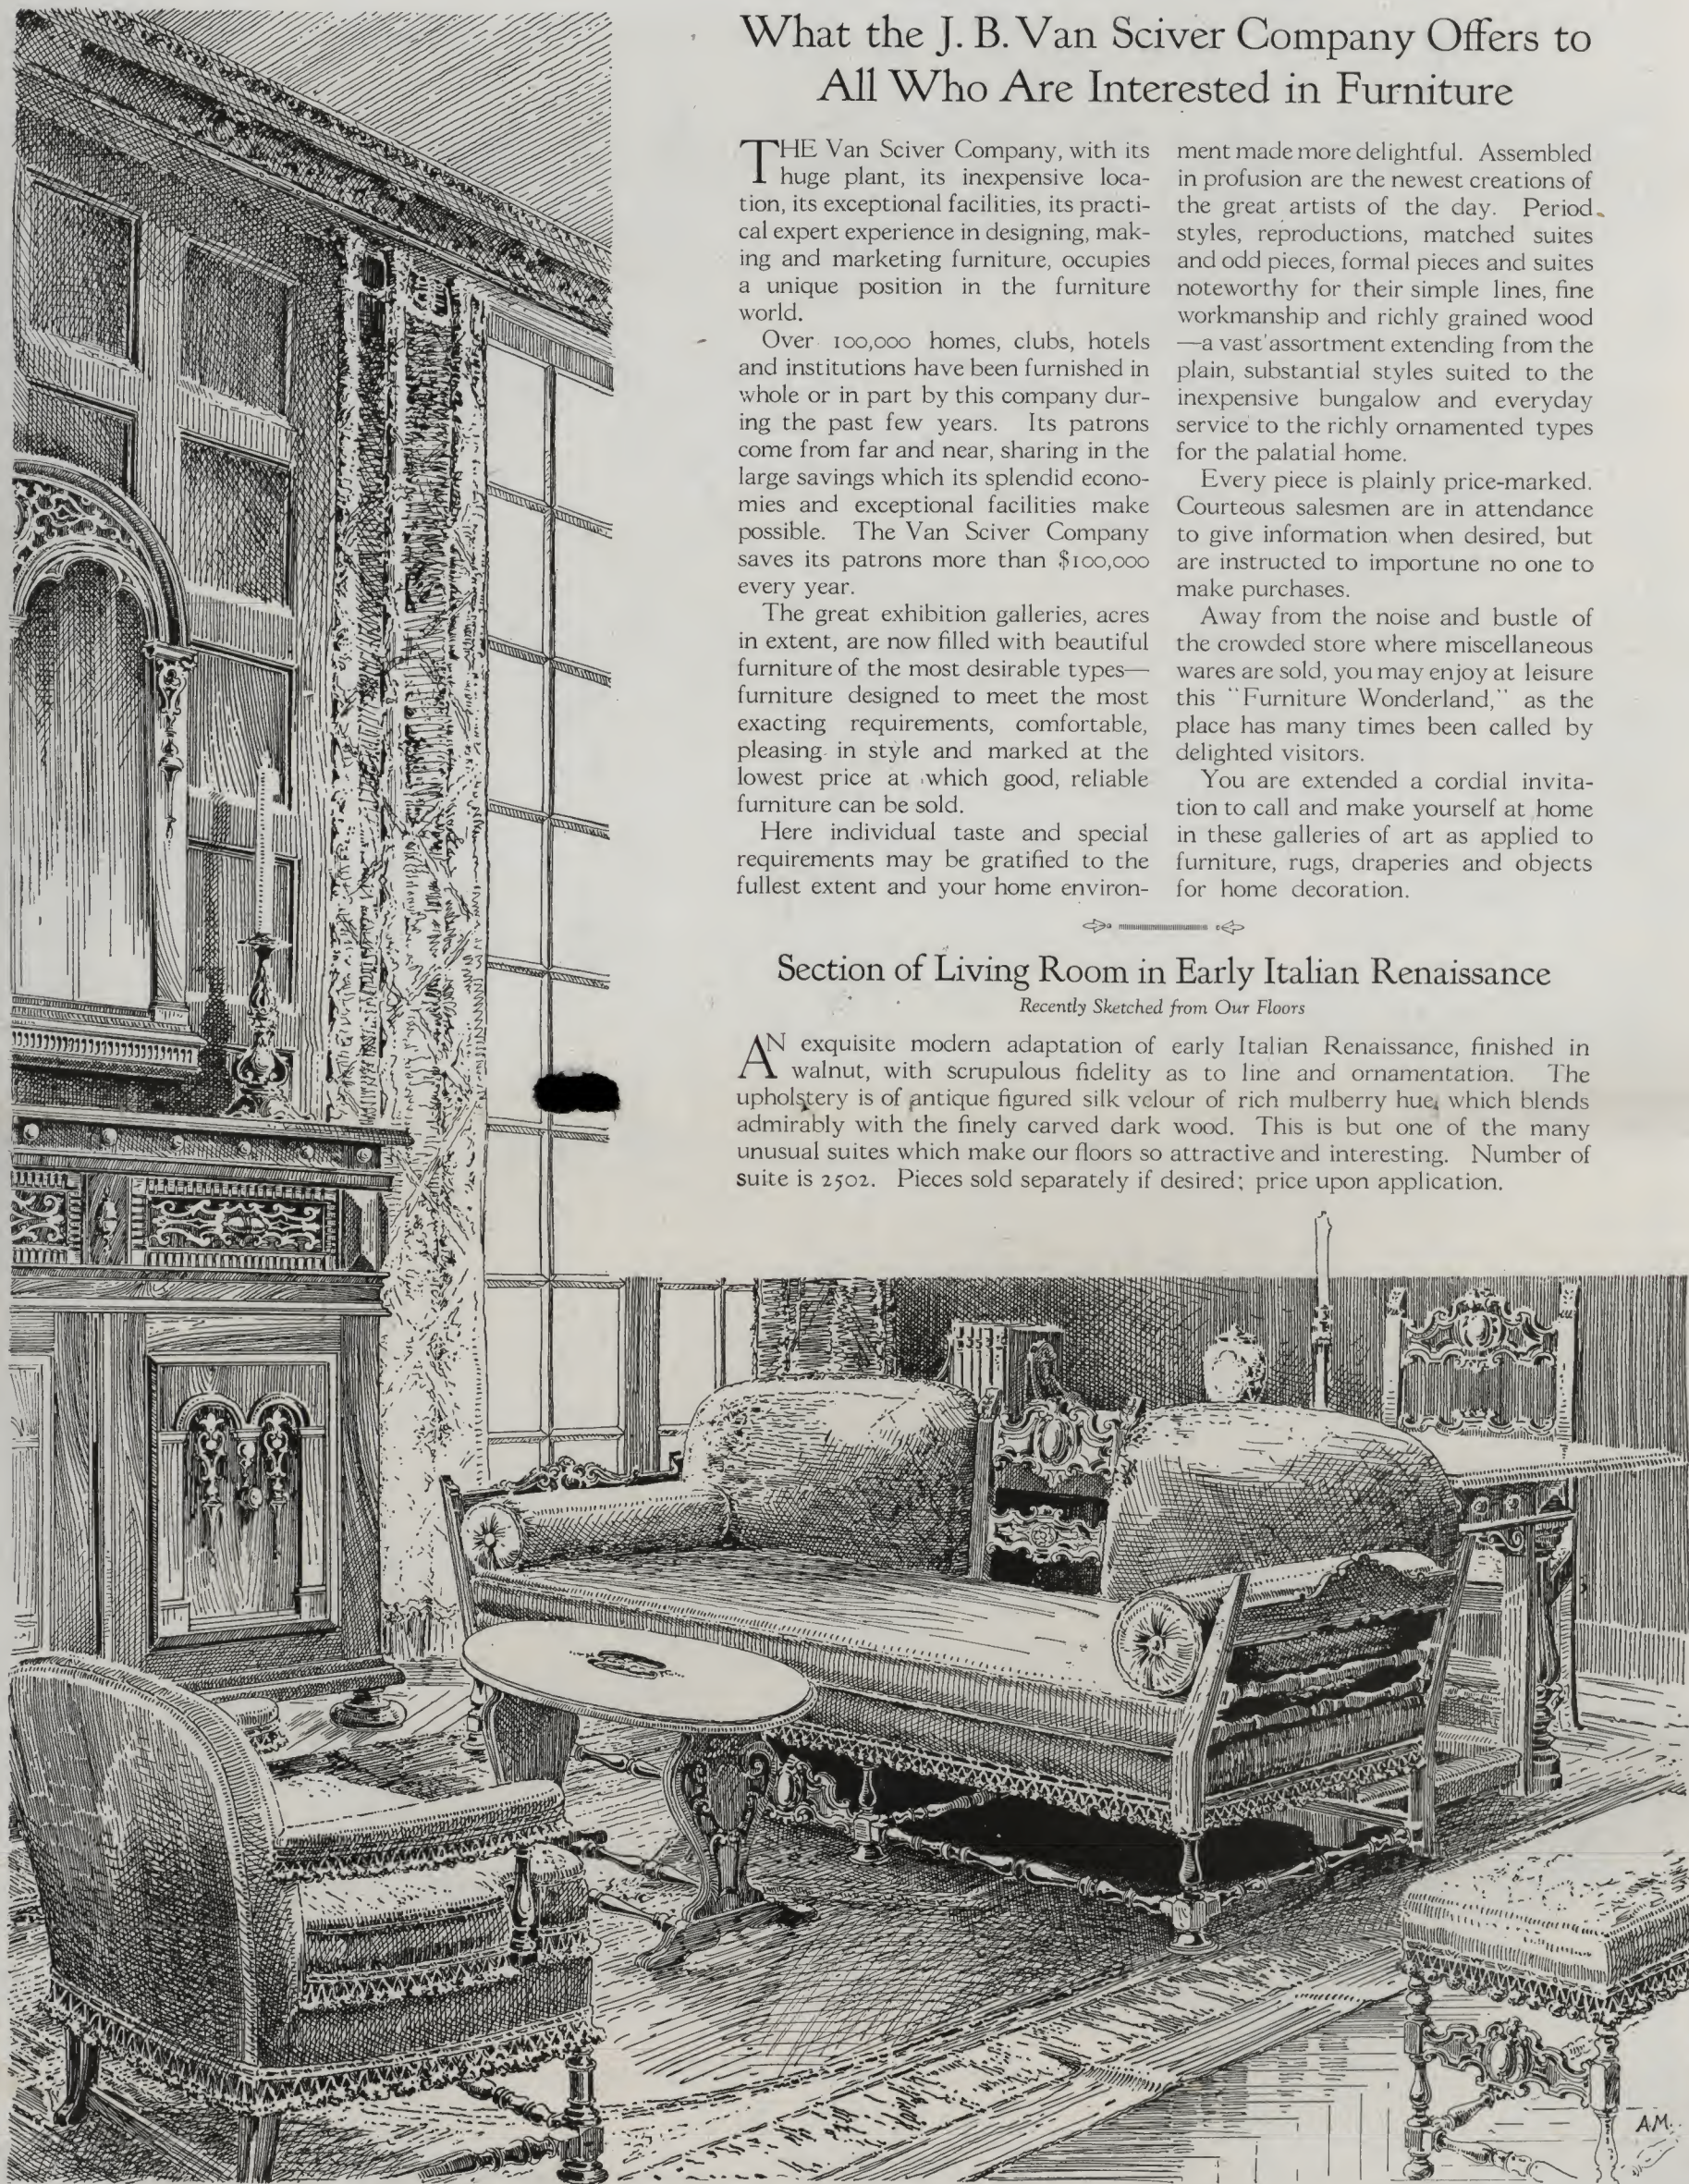

Away from the noise and bustle of the crowded store where miscellaneous wares are sold, you may enjoy at leisure this "Furniture Wonderland," as the place has many times been called by delighted visitors.

You are extended a cordial invitation to call and make yourself at home in these galleries of art as applied to furniture, rugs, draperies and objects for home decoration.

Section of Living Room in Early Italian Renaissance

Recently Sketched from Our Floors

AN exquisite modern adaptation of early Italian Renaissance, finished in walnut, with scrupulous fidelity as to line and ornamentation. The upholstery is of antique figured silk velour of rich mulberry hue, which blends admirably with the finely carved dark wood. This is but one of the many unusual suites which make our floors so attractive and interesting. Number of suite is 2502. Pieces sold separately if desired; price upon application.

Fashions in Furniture

ENAMEL Breakfast-Room Suites in quaint designs and picturesque colorings, are among the attractive novelties of the season.

The Day Bed and Chaise Lounge, with their inviting upholstery and many colored pillows, have been introduced by the couch and its predecessor, the lounge, changes that show the course of furniture evolution.

American Walnut, the wood of our forbears, is again the rival of tropical Mahogany. The increasing favor in which this wood is regarded is not surprising. Walnut is one of the handsomest and best-wearing furniture woods known.

The Adjustable Reading Lamp suggests cozy comfort, and in the new forms and colorings now being introduced is most decorative.

Sofa Tables, usually shaped or half-round for sofa ends and long and narrow for sofa backs, are found to be most useful for books, magazines, lamps, photos and numberless articles of daily use. This long table, too, is frequently used to advantage against the wall where rooms are narrow. The sofa table finds a welcome place in many a scheme of good furnishing.

A dainty bit of furnishing is often added to the home in the form of an ivory, gray or decorated Black Enamel Bedroom Suite. Many beautiful effects and a profusion of styles, both in moderate and expensive patterns, are now on exhibition.

The Console Table and Mirror lend atmosphere to the home, and are far from the commonplace, yet they fill much the same utilitarian purpose as the hall-stand.

A most interesting collection has been brought out by the furniture designers this season. Some of the more expensive varieties have arm and side chairs to match.

Mahogany, the king of furniture woods, seems to grow more beautiful each year with the new treatments and improved finishes. The rich brown tones of English Heirloom Furniture is now the sought-for color.

An Exquisite Mahogany Dining-Room Suite

Modeled After the Chippendale Style

THE suite illustrated on this page is ornate, graceful in line and richly carved. The sideboard, 6 ft. 5 in. long, has centre closet, fitted with two long linen trays and silver drawers with velvet pads. The six-leg serving table is 4 ft. 9 in. long. The round extension table is 54 in. wide. Number of suite is 8421. The price of piece complete suite given on application. This is one of the almost innumerable suites offered in the wonderful collection of furniture at the Van Sciver store.

General Information

No. 262. High-Boy in Solid Mahogany; with cabriole legs; ball and claw feet; shell and flame hand carving; eleven dovetail drawers, with cast brass handles; height, 72 in.; width, 40 in. $148.00

This is one of the charming reproductions to be found in "Furniture Wonderland," replete with high post beds, spinet desks, fireside chairs, pie crust tables, Virginia sofas, and a thousand and one beautiful pieces of period furniture of the English and French schools. Pieces that will lend distinction to any home.

Visitors are Welcome to wander at leisure through the acres of furniture and furnished rooms, and to study the various art objects and reproductions of period pieces without being under obligation to purchase.

How to Reach the Van Sciver Store—The Van Sciver Salesrooms are located opposite the Penna. R. R. Terminal in Camden, N. J. Visitors from Philadelphia take the ferry from the east end of Market Street. Boats cross every four minutes.

How to Order by Mail—Indicate clearly the article wanted, giving name, number and kind of wood. Enclose check, postal or express money order, or cash in registered letter. If article wanted is not shown in this catalog, please send description, with some idea of price, and we will submit illustrations.

Our Guarantee—If articles purchased are not satisfactory, they may be exchanged within ten days or the price paid will be refunded.

Bedding Laws are wisely stringent. Bedding cannot be exchanged.

Reupholstering, Repairing of Woodwork and refinishing of furniture is done at our factory at reasonable rates. The color of much of the old mahogany furniture is improved by age, and when refinished by our expert mechanics is handsomer than it was at the time the piece was originally made. Estimates given upon request.

Made to Order Furniture—We submit designs and estimates for furniture made to your special order in any period; also for special requirements, or to match pieces you already have. Consult us freely.

Free Delivery by auto, and goods set up in your house within 20 miles, where roads are good. We pack in a strictly first-class manner; guarantee safe delivery and prepay freight on bills of $5.00 and over within 100 miles of the store.

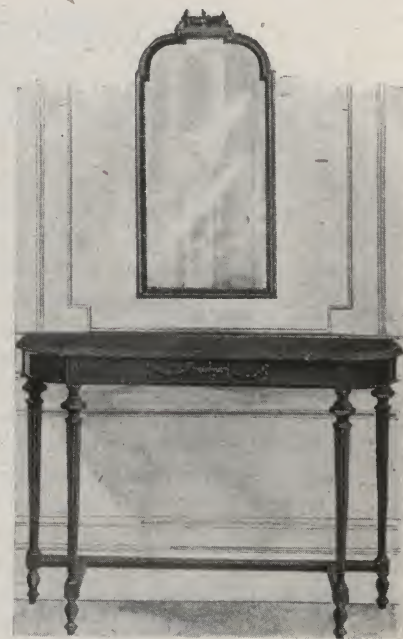

Your Charge Account is Solicited—For the convenience of customers, arrangements may be made to have purchases delivered when needed, and bills therefor rendered the following month.

Price Notice—Owing to unsettled market conditions prevailing at this time, and the scarcity of certain materials, we reserve the right to change or withdraw prices on any article in this publication without further notice.

This Publication, while profusely illustrated with the intention of giving some idea of the Van Sciver Store, does not contain

The Art of Furnishing a Home

The clever young housekeeper prefers a few good pieces to many that are mediocre. Her aim is harmonious furnishing and she avoids the faddish conglomerates. She also avoids the cheap and showy product whose chief attraction is cheapness. She has learned that the poorly made and poorly designed furniture is the worst sort of waste.

She cultivates the tendency to select with a thought as to future wear and comfort, and in considering decorative effects the size of rooms, as compared to size of furniture and color harmony between rugs, draperies and wall tints, is never forgotten.

She finds the small room looks larger with light-toned walls, dainty draperies and not too massive furniture. She knows also that the dark rooms are made cheerful and bright with the introduction of sunny tints of the soft warm colors—yellow, rose, ivory, and tan green—that blue and gray lend a cool and quiet dignity to an apartment.

She has long ago discovered that massive furniture, rich toned rugs and draperies may be placed with wonderful effect in a large living room, but for the little room a number of small pieces with light rugs and draperies are decidedly better if the effect of space is to be preserved.

The successful amateur decorator does not decide too quickly. Not even should the salesman look bored because she does not buy right off. She realizes that she is to live with the furnishings being selected, and that her friends, too, will share the joyousness of the harmonious color schemes of her tastefully furnished home whose air of refinement is bound to be restful—a consummation well worth all the effort of careful study and selection.

Full Equipment for Thousands of Homes is Displayed in the Van Sciver Galleries

for you to see and from which to make your own selections. That is one of the many unique advantages of dealing at this largest exclusive furniture store. Traverse through its spacious galleries, and you will find that they reveal virtually everything essential to the complete equipment of every kind of home, so that, beyond a doubt, you will find just what you want for your home. The Period Styles—the stately Chippendale, the dainty Adam, the luxurious Louis XVI, the graceful Queen Anne, the dignified Jacobean, the symmetrically refined William and Mary, the austere classical Gothic, etc.—are all exemplified, together with their most correct and charming modern interpretations, from the simplest and most inexpensive to the most ornate and costly.

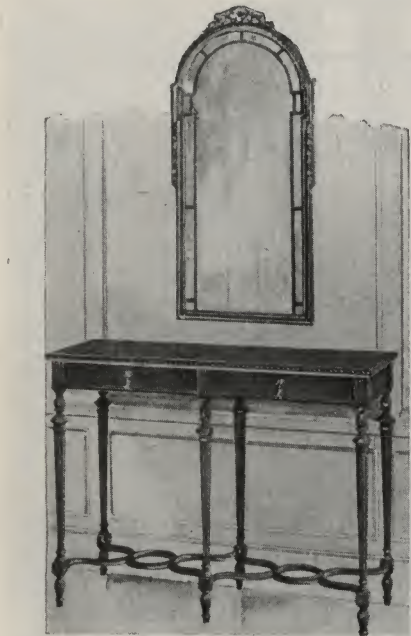

This illustration shows the modern tendency toward harmonious grouping of Period furniture.

THE CARE OF BEDDING

One of the details often overlooked in the pleasant art of home-keeping is the proper care of bedding.

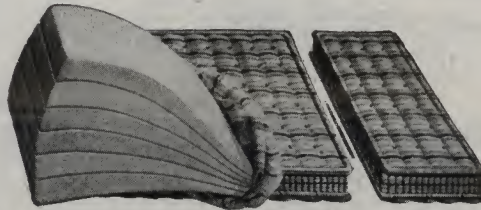

A hair mattress in constant use should be renovated occasionally, not only to improve its elasticity, but also as a matter of hygiene. Our method of thoroughly sterilizing the hair and enclosing it in new ticking makes to all intents and purposes a new mattress. The price for renovating and making over with new ticking is $11.50.

If additional hair is required, an extra charge is made per pound according to grade used.

Feather Beds, Feather Pillows and Bolsters are treated in the same manner. Our process of carefully sterilizing the feathers puts new life into them, practically giving the housekeeper a new bed or pillow. The price for renovating and making a feather bed over with new ticking is $9.00.

Two Pillows and Bolsters, set of three renovated and made over with new ticking, $5.00 the set.

Further information cheerfully supplied on request.

This Roll Edge "Victory" Mattress made in two parts. Welted seam, good quality ticking, felted cotton. Full size. The best mattress of this quality now being offered at such a low price.....$13.50

VAN SCIVER MATTRESSES, SPRINGS, BEDDING

In selecting Bedroom Furniture, you can save the vexing annoyance of a misfit by ordering mattresses and springs at the same time. We make it a rule to set up our beds and fit the springs to them before delivery, so that there can be no mistake.

As manufacturers of furniture, there is no part of our business that we understand better than the making of bedding; each mattress is made up fresh and new to the special order of the customer, in the very best possible manner and under the most careful supervision, insuring comfort and complete satisfaction. The observance of all sanitary and hygienic rules is a scrupulous point with this house.

Likewise in the matter of springs. A poor spring means a sleepless night. We believe that no maker knows more about springs than we do. The Van Sciver Box Spring stands alone in its class as the masterpiece of all spring construction.

In the making of pillows and bolsters all our feathers are thoroughly sterilized and purified, and guaranteed perfectly odorless. When in need of bedding, we would appreciate a call or postal inquiry.

Felted Cotton Mattresses, full size	$12.50 to $26.00
Hair Mattresses, full size	28.50 to 57.00
Other Mattresses, full size	5.25 up
Smaller sizes proportionately less.

Feather Pillows	.93 to 6.10
Hair Pillows	2.00 to 4.35
Excellent Quality of Goose Feathers, 95c per lb. and up.

Woven Wire Springs	6.00 to 15.75
Box Spring Mattresses	21.50 to 34.50

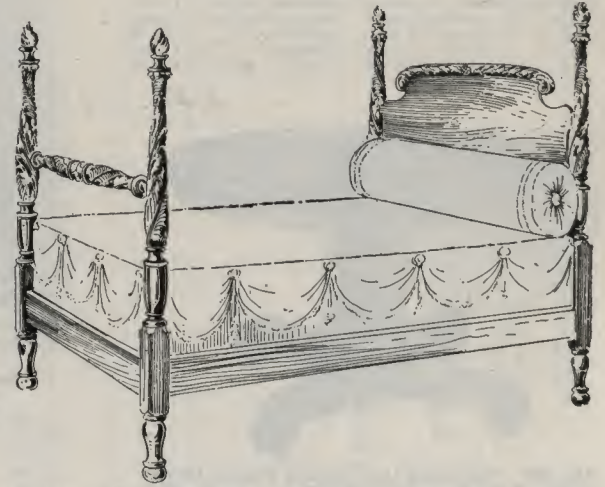

The larger section of a two-piece full-size mattress is made square. If this is turned around every few days it will wear more evenly, and materially increase the life and comfort of the mattress.

AWNINGS

In constructing awnings we use only the best materials, such as John Boyle's stripes, double filled Government dye khaki duck or oil-painted stripes on white or khaki duck. Non-shrinkable worsted binding. Fixtures are galvanized to withstand moisture. We have established an excellent reputation for good workmanship at moderate prices. Phone or write for estimates.

Porch Shades. Vudor Ventilating Porch Shades made of strong wood slats, dyed green and woven with twine. Made to roll. All sizes. Send for booklet and prices.
